DETAILED ACTION

1. Appeal Brief filed on 01/06/05 is acknowledged. Claims 1 and 2 are pending in the application.

In response to the Appeal Brief the examiner withdraws the finality of the last Office action and establishes a new ground of rejections for the pending claims.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 2 recites a limitation, which does not further limit the product composition, which is the subject matter of the parent claim. Limitation referring to a temperature of the sample is not a proper limitation for the product.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear, what are “at least some fats and oils” recited in claim 1? Are petroleum products (which are organic) “at least some fats and oils” recited in the claim?

The claim is further unclear and indefinite as to what type of a pad can be considered “free of atoms that would interfere with or mask the proton NMR response of the protons in the fats and oils in the sample”. Fats and oils of different origins have different NMR chemical shifts. It makes it unclear, which pads can satisfy the limitation recited in claim 1, especially since it is not clear, which fats and oils are recited in the claim. The same question is applied to the sheet material. The language of the claim renders it unclear and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by any sandwich made of bread and any food product comprising fat or oil (butter, meat, fish, etc.) wrapped in any conventional polyvinyl chloride (PVC) plastic wrap, as evidenced by Roudaout et al. (J. Cereal Sci., 1998), Alanen et al. (Phys. Med. Biol., 1991) and Pourahmady (US 5,292,823).

Roudaout teaches NMR study of “mobility of lipids in low moisture bread”, which indicates that there is no interference between the NMR signals of fat (lipids) and bread, i.e. that the bread is a substrate satisfying the limitation of claim 1.

Alanen teaches that the fat proton signals are at ~ 1 ppm (see page 954), while Pourahmady teaches that PVC signals are below 3.5 ppm, and therefore do not interfere with the fat signals; it means that PVC wrap satisfied the limitation of claim 1 for the wrap.
